

Community Information Bulletin

The trial of former BART police officer Johannes Mehserle is underway in Los Angeles and moving quickly; a verdict could be announced in late June.

Message from Mayor Ron Dellums and Chief Batts on a United Oakland:

We are united as a city and a community, and we are dedicated to ensuring the safe expressions of emotions during this difficult time.

We understand that the community is grieving, and we are in this together. We will get through this together.

There are many people ready to help begin the healing process and they have opened their doors to allow us to express our grief in a healthy manner that will not endanger our safety, livelihood or reputation as a city.

We are asking for the community to come together, look out for one another, and stay safe.

We will not tolerate destruction or violence. We live here, and we love Oakland.
